On the lawn

WITH LARRY LAWRENCE

Local lawns took quite a beating in last summer's drouth. Some of them were burned brown and a large percentage went into the winter in a seriously weakened condition. The results may soon become evident.

Being deprived of moisture, the grass roots were cut off from their food supply just at the time when underground growth normally accelerates. As a result, there is a likelihood of many lawns greening up late and of looking thin and straggly instead of thick and vigorous.

Such a condition calls for prompt and liberal feeding. Those who use a high protein fertilizer such as Turf Builder can speed recovery by applying at double rate, particularly in exposed areas.

damaged, reseeding should begin as soon as the ground can be worked without puddling. And since burned out areas are likely to harbor a prime crop of crabgrass seeds, it would be well to have the protection of a preemergence control. A compatible product, Halts is an example, permits seeding at the same time, a real time and labor saving ad-

Hint to a proud grandfather: One of the nicest presents you can give a newborn baby is a savings account at the Westfield Savings Bank. Children soon outgrow silver cups and hand-knit booties, but money in a Westfield Savings Bank account keeps on growing — earning regular, generous dividends. And as the youngster grows up and starts earning his own money, he will recognize the importance of regular savings — the first step to financial independence.

on Wednesday, April 21st, and will be called "Family Night." In the past the Club has had a Father-and-Son and a Fatherand-Daughter night but this year will have a night for the entire family on a package deal without regard to the size of the unit. Much work and planning is being done to insure the success of the town. President Nick Zucco and program Chairman Ray Harris are very enthusiastic about the affair and promise a night to be enjoyed by all.

The testimonial to the outgoing District Governor of 33-Y will be held in Agawam this year at Betty's Old Towne House on April 24th, Saturday evening. Lions from Williamstown to Pittsfield, Great Barrington, Southwick and to Wilbraham will gather to honor Arthur Tinney of Cheshire, who has done honor to the office during this year.

Last evening the local club held a joint meeting with the Long-meadow Lions Club and had a fine get-together. Gerd Schneider of the Longmeadow Club is a candidate for District Governor of 33-Y and will be voted for at the state convention at Swampscott on May 14 through 16.

Questions and Answers

Q. Every quarter I report the wages of my employees for social security. My accountant tells me my own earnings don't belong on that report. Aren't self-employed people also covered by social sec-

A. Yes, indeed, they are. However, their social security credits are based on their net earnings from self-employment and these become known only after the end of the business year. For this reason, the law prescribes that selfemployed people will report their in Agawam, we hope to see you earnings only once a year as part all back here this Friday, April of their income tax returns. Yes, assuming that you had gross income of at least $600 from the sale of farm products in the taxable year. You may even file amended returns with the Internal Revenue Service for any year back to 1961, provided that you do this on or before April 15, 1965, which is the date on which an amended return for 1961 may be accepted. You may report twothirds of the gross income as your farm net profit to a maximum of $1200. By doing this, and by paying the self-employment tax, you may acquire four quarters of coverage under social security for each year.

Q. If I haven't withheld my employee's share of the social security tax, am I, the employer, responsible for his share as well as my own?

A. Yes, the tax law makes you responsible for deducting a 5/8 percent from the employee's wages. If you fail to do so, you must pay both shares (7 ¼ percent) yourself.
